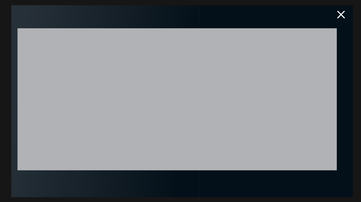
Personal Work

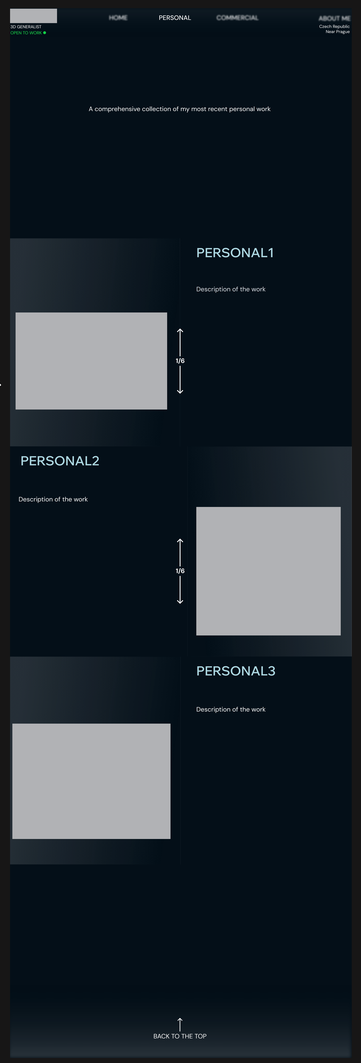
Commercial Work

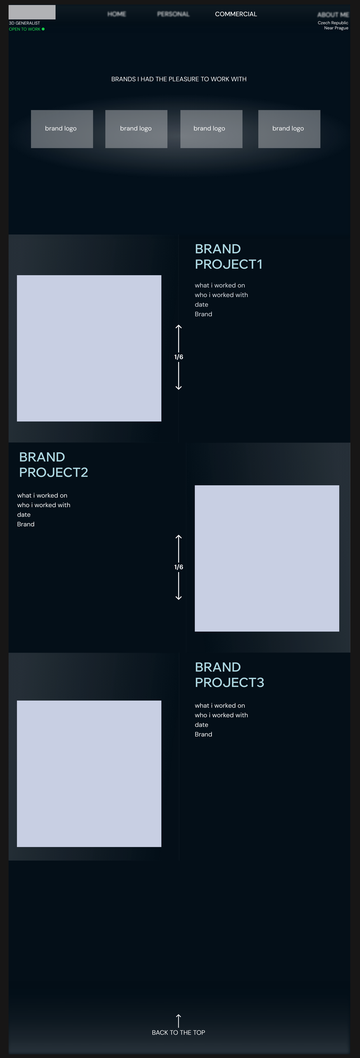
Home Page

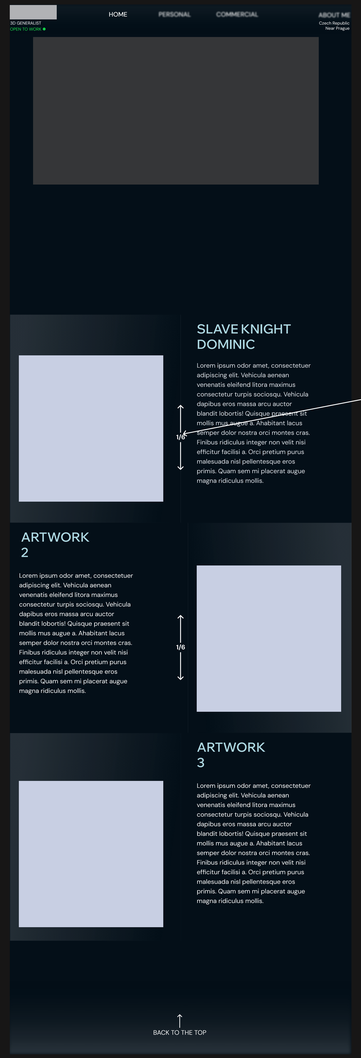
About Me

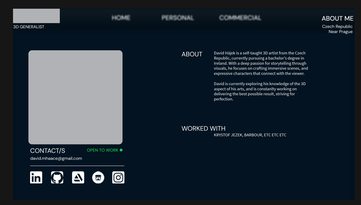
When clicking an image, the image would open fullscreen, overlaying the webpage, the user can then click the X to close it and continue the browsing









Showcases how many images are associated with the current work – in this case – "Slave Knight Dominic"


The images would move in a carousel style, going up and or down, showing each image in this rectangle box, while the text on the right remains static until the end of the images has been met